Dr. Floyd Hatch, 71, S.L. Surgeon, Dies

+ 7 Nov. 1963

Dr. Floyd F. Hatch, 71, 1363 Butler Ave. (40 South), a Salt Lake surgeon for 46 years, died Thursday night at his home after a long illness.

Dr. Hatch was one of the founders of the Intermountain Clinic in 1919 and had worked with the clinic the rest of his life.

He had served as staff president of the Latter-day Saints

Hospital, president of the Utah Chapter, American College of Surgeons and president of the Salt Lake Surgical Society.

He was a member of the board of governors of the American College of Surgeons from 1957 to 1959. He had been an associate clinical professor of surgery at the University of Utah College of Medicine, with which he was closely associated, since 1943.

Dr. Hatch was born Feb. 16, 1892, in Heber City, a son of Joseph and Sarah Jane Clyde Hatch. He was graduated from the University of Utah in 1912 and in 1914 was the first Utah graduate of Harvard University Medical School.

Played Football

At the University of Utah he played football and was president of the charter group of Pi-Kappa Alpha social fraternity. At Harvard he was a charter member of Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity. He later organized a chapter of that fraternity at the U.

Dr. Hatch interned at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, Mass., and completed a surgical residency at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Floyd F. Hatch
... clinic founder

Army Surgeon

During World War I, he was an Army surgeon at Ft. Riley, Kan. He did postgraduate work in Europe in 1926 and 1927.

In 1942 he became a diplomat of the American Board of Surgery. He had belonged to the American Urologic Assn. since 1923 and was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Hatch is survived by his widow, Donnette Lloyd Hatch; two sons and three daughters, Floyd Garn Hatch (whose mother, Mabel Lubeck Hatch, died in 1942), Dr. Joseph Lloyd Hatch, Mrs. William S. (Jane) Jordan and Mrs. Gordon L. (Golda) Olsen, all of Salt Lake City, and Donnette Hatch, New York City, and 13 grandchildren.

Also surviving are one sister and three brothers, Mrs. W. R. Wheritt and George Hatch, both Heber City; Abram Hatch and Glen S. Hatch, both Salt Lake City.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at the Federal Heights Ward chapel, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 1300 E. Fairfax Rd. (3rd Ave.). Time will be announced later. Graveside services will be held in Heber City.

Friends may call at 260 E. South Temple Friday 6 to 8 p.m. and Saturday 9 to 10 a.m.
